

the layered look

Celeb event designer David Beahm reveals the latest reception trends.

the hot plate

"An amuse-bouche (tiny morsel served before the appetizer) always makes guests feel special."

designer details

who: David Beahm of David Beahm Designs

where: New York City

years in the wedding business: 11 years, started in theater design

famous wedding clients:

Catherine Zeta-Jones and Michael Douglas

signature style: glamour with a flair for the dramatic; think big and lush arrangements like the peacock feathers here!

layered chair treatment

"The pleat offers a nice visual dynamic, while the trailing sash emulates a peacock's tail."

organic bouquet

"Add something unexpected. Peacock feathers are cool and calm."

favorite new motif
"Dark peacock feathers!"

the new votive
"Tall hurricanes
reflect light, which makes everyone at the table look great."

couture linens "This tablecloth gives the impression of flowers
floating in a pond,
which adds to
the table's
overall tranquility."

click>> See more of David Beahm's amazing wedding décor on TheKnot.com/tv